

Head of Responsible Investment

Sandra is Head of Responsible Investment at Newton. Sandra manages the team which ensures the integration of environmental, social and governance issues into Newton's fundamental research process. Prior to joining Newton, Sandra was a director at F&C Investments. Sandra built the sustainability and climate change practice at Brunswick Group and she set up and ran the climate change and thematic sustainability investment team within global markets and banking at Citi. Whilst at Citi, Sandra co-founded Citiwomen, a group-wide diversity network, which won a Business in the Community Opportunity Now award in 2001. Sandra has also worked for Deutsche Bank and SG Warburg as a European equity specialist. Sandra started her career in fixed income at JP Morgan, where she also spent several year in the emerging market debt restructuring team. Sandra is a visiting business fellow at the Oxford Smith School of Enterprise and the Environment. In January 2016, she was elected to the PRI board.
